Saving the world costs less than you may think.

For the cost of a candy bar, you can save a child from HIV infection. Give up a couple of lattes, and you can restore someone's eyesight. And your next dinner at a restaurant? Buy some chickens instead – you could feed a family and provide enough income to send the children to school.

By investing less than $2 a week you can change lives!

Last Week: Classification Speech & Foundation Information

Rotarian Jeanne MacDonald was born in Salt Lake City and is of Swedish and Dutch decent. Dutch decent. She was raised in Arvada, CO and attended the University of Denver where she majored in Business Administration with an emphasis in Management. Her first job was with Kaiser where she transitioned into the Human Resources area.

Jeanne has four children: a daughter who is an artist, a son in the Marines, stationed in Afghanistan and a son and a daughter still at home. When her children were young she moved to the mountains of Colorado and became a home-schooling parent.

She furthered her education getting a degree in Elementary Education and an MBA in International Business. She looks forward to pursuing her Doctorate.

Jeanne moved to Dickinson and joined the Strom Center in 2007 and just recently accepted a position with Minot State University at their Bismarck location where she will be an Advising Professor. We in the Dickinson Rotary Club wish her well on her move and welcome her back anytime.

Rotarian Jon Brudvig updated us on the Rotary Foundation (fitting since November is Foundation month). "Service Above Self" says it all. If you give to the Rotary Foundation your dollars can be earmarked for Education, the Humanitarian Grant Program, or Polio Plus.

By giving just $1,000 you become a Paul Harris Fellow; the Dickinson Club is fortunate to have many. If you donate $100 per year you can become a sustaining member and for just $1,000 per year you join the Paul Harris Society. Remember that all of the dollars come back to the local clubs – but they need to apply.
